Description

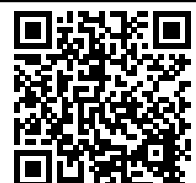

A traditional 19th Century elm cricket table with a beautifully grained and rustic top typical of elm. This distinctive graining is repeated on the legs and stretchers. This antique table has a good rich colour and stands firmly with no wobbles. The imperfections on the top are part of the natural character of the timber and add to the rustic nature of this stunning country table. Due to its simple lines and small proportions, this charming cricket table would be a decorative addition to any room. c.1860 Diameter: 29" (74cm) Height: 28.75" (73cm)
