Description

A magnificent pair of antique Royal Crown Derby vases in Campana form. Manufactured in 1907 / 1908 with green ground and floral bouquets within raised gilt ribbon cartouches. Royal Crown Derby is one of the few original fine bone china manufacturers that still remains in Britain today. Royal Crown Derby has always been a favourite of the British Royal Family and many other Royal Families around the world. The condition of this pair of vases is perfect without any blemishes. About the Date of Manufacture These antiques were produced in the era of King Edward VII (1901-1910). This was a period in history when Great Britain was at its apogee of power and wealth. The British Empire at its height was the largest empire in history and, for over a century, had been the foremost global power. By 1913 the British Empire held sway over 412 million people, nearly a quarter of the world population at the time, and the Royal Navy was the most powerful navy in the world. This wonderful pair of antique vases well represent the confidence and strength of this particular era. All of the items that we advertise for sale have been as accurately described as possible and a...
