Description

As we say above, this is most unusual. Dating from the 19th Century this rectangular low side table has, we suspect, been made for a specific purpose. What that was is not known to us, however it is absolutely perfect as a table to go by a settee or chair. At 44cms high it will go by the side of the arm and is a perfect height to take anything off with ease, book, coffee, glass of wine etc. It is very clean and tidy with good colour and finish. Total perfection if you want to keep the port to yourself! As you may guess it is something that we really cannot repeat.
