Description

A beautiful edwardian oak desk of good large proportions. It has 1 long drawer and 2 short drawers above 6 pedestal drawers, each with brass plate handles. The knee-hole gap is 24" tall by 20" wide. The top has a brown leather writing surface with a gold tooled edge. This is a particularly good quality desk because all four sides are panelled which means the desk can be used against a wall and also with the back facing into a room as it looks as smart as the front and sides. It sits on castors so is easy to move about and it splits into 3 parts to make transport more convenient. The desk is in good condition for its age and has been well looked after. It has a lovely rich patina and the drawers run well. The inside of the drawers are generally clean and tidy with just some minor ink stains. The bottom two drawers have had the handles changed at some point and are slightly different to the rest but it doesn't affect the overall look of the desk. There are some normal light signs of age and use and some small knocks around the base but nothing detrimental and the leather surface is in superb condition, having been recently professionally replaced.
