Description

A very well presented Henri Jacot carriage clock in a gilded gorge case. This striking and repeating carriage clock benefits from retaining the original silvered, Jeweled lever escapement which is visible through the large bevelled top glass. A white enamel dial with Roman numerals typical Jacot inner ring and alarm dial behind substantial bevelled glass. The clock also benefits from having an alarm function. H.Jacot is one of the most collectable makers of carriage clocks and this is a very good example with the stamped Jacot logo and number 14803 and key with outer leather covered case - also numbered. Circa 1895. Please see the more detailed photos.
