Description

ROYAL WORCESTER: a good set of FOUR porcelain figures from the "CRIES OF LONDON" Series, modelled by James Hadley. These are quite rare, and comprise: "Ye Water Carrier"; "Ye Night Watchman"; "Ye Marking Stones Man" and "Ye Brush Man". First introduced in 1883, these are date-coded for 1884. All are perfect; fully marked and measure about 7ins (17.75cms) high. (Priced for the set of Four) James Hadley (1837-1903) was apprenticed to Kerr & Binns in the 1850s and by 1870 he had become the principal modeller at the Royal Worcester Porcelain Manufactory. In 1875 he left the firm to set up his own design studios at 95, High Street Worcester, and although not directly employed by Royal Worcester, he sold virtually all of his work to them. Highly regarded and considered by some to be the finest modeller of English porcelain ever.
