Description

In Georgian times, pineapples were hugely expensive and to have one was a conspicuous sign of wealth. Families would sometimes have a pineapple stand in cut glass or ceramic on a side table or as a dining table centerpiece. Upright they would also double as a ham stand or for a large joint, surrounded by fruit and decoration it would provide the focal point of a gathering or feast. This superb Georgian example has a step cut waisted centre, with bands of hobnail cutting to the top and bottom. A rare and desirable piece of Georgian table glass. Dimensions below. P&P contribution £25.00 UK £50.00 Worldwide. Condition :- Excellent, with no cracks or major chips. There are a couple of small fleabites to the step cutting, commensurate with age and use. Origin :- English. Date :- c1810. Height :- 10.25 cms. Base diameter :- 16 cms.
