Description

Unusually large 19th.c. pine cricket table c.1840. At 42" diameter it is a good deal larger than most, indeed we are confident in saying it is the largest we have ever handled in over 30 years of trading. Easily big enough to serve as a dining table for four. Three plank top on a triangle base with three tapering legs joined with a useful stretcher shelf below. Additional circular pads have been added to the feet at some point, otherwise it is completely original throughout. Very good unrestored condition, solid and sturdy. Dimensions: diameter 42", height 28".
