Description

A stylish small antique Edwardian oak desk. With one large drawer above three smaller drawers on plinth base alongside a kneehole supported by a turned leg. The drawers are fitted with attractive brass handles and brass escutcheons. The drawers have various arrangements of dividers and have locks (apart from the bottom drawer). It comes with a key which locks the large drawer and the middle drawer. To the top is the original Rexine/leather cloth writing surface which is nicely aged. The piece is in a medium oak which is well figured with lots of age and character and offers plenty of storage and work space in a fairly compact size. Construction/Wood: Oak Condition Report: Solid and sturdy, good original condition. General wear and marks commensurate with age. Some wear and scuffs to writing surface. Beautiful figuring and warm patina to the oak. Dimensions: Width: 92cm Height: 76cm Depth: 54cm Kneehole Aperture Width: 50cm High: 61cm
