Description

Lovely example of a Mahogany framed, buttoned nursing chair dating from the late 19th Century. It is a pretty shape with a stuffed seat and curved arms on elegant carved front legs and the original castors. The chair has been recently reupholstered in a deep velvet with contrasting gold braid and the upholstery is in very good condition. It is a good sturdy chair and comfortable to sit in. There are some general marks and small knocks around the legs but nothing detrimental and the frame is very sturdy.
