Description

A high quality, small George II mahogany tea table with a very decorative shaped frieze, standing on tapering legs with beautifully shaped knees and pad feet. The hinged top of this Georgian table opens to make a useful square supper table. The colour is rich and mellow and the patina excellent. The condition is very good, standing well with no wobbles. This small proportioned and elegant 18th Century table is ready to place as a hall or side table in any room and would add style to any interior. c.1740 Width: 30" (76cm) Depth: 14.75" (37.5cm) Height: 29" (73.5cm) Open measurement: 30" (76cm) square
