Description

Victorian James Jas Shoolbred Leather Walnut Chesterfield Fully Stamped An extremely well-drawn 19th-century Victorian walnut deep buttoned leather upholstered chesterfield stamped by the famous makers James Jas Shoolbred and Co London. Along with Howard and Sons Jas Shoolbred are two of the most sought-after names in 19th-century Victorian upholstery furniture. This leather chesterfield is fully stamped with the serial number to the inside back right leg and with the castors being stamped Shoolbred London. It is very rare to find such a wonderful chesterfield by such a good maker. Having a shaped breakfront edge and scrolling arms this fine chesterfield has been upholstered in a very good quality deep buttoned hand-dyed leather hyde. Dating to circa 1880 the back has a shaped sprung scrolled edge and a buttoned sprung seat making this chesterfield extremely comfortable when seated as one would expect. The ring turned front legs being made of solid walnut retaining their original brass castors stamped Shoolbred London and the rear splay legs again being of walnut retaining their original stamped castors with the right leg being stamped with a serial number. A superb...
