Description

Good early 19th century Dutch gilt mirror of Queen Anne design. Oak frame with original chamfered oak back fixed on with lovely original hand cut iron nails. The back also has its original iron wire hooks to each side. The mirror is a very pleasing design with both original soft bevelled plates. The top section curves over a bit which is a nice feature. The mirror is in very good order and retains all its original gilding with no over-painting. The top section has been off at some time and glued back on but that is the only flaw. New brass wire for hanging has been put on. Just a really nice mirror with a great look and colour. SIZE; 39" tall by 20" wide CIRCA; 1800 - 1820
