Description

A 1920s Thomas Russell full hunter pocket watch. The watch has a 7-jewel stem-winding movement which is working nicely. The movement is protected by an inner hinged cover. The watch itself measures 50mm diameter excluding the winding stem and the loop. The case is gold plated and is in good condition with nice crisp engine turned detail to both the front and back. There is the odd minor mark but nothing serious at all. The winding crown pushes in to open the front cover. Inside, there is an acrylic lens which is in good condition. Originally the watch would have had a glass lens but these often broken and were replaced with the more durable acrylic. The signed white dial has a small patch of short hairlines by number 10 and a short hairline crack by number 5, not overly visible to the naked eye. The watch will be sent in a new presentation box.
