Description

A good late Geo111 (circa the 1800s) small double drawer pedestal Pembroke side table raised on turned pillar quatrefoil base with reeded legs, terminating on lion paw feet. Mahogany with a deep exquisite cross-banding of Indian rosewood. Superb quality. Oak lined drawers. Sympathetically traditionally repolished top with shellac mix. This is as nice a table as any on the market of its type. And extremely rare on a pedestal with sweeping quatrefoil legs. Rare enough on a pillar plinth base, but nowhere near as elegant as this fine and rare Georgian pedestalled original. Condition. With a very few outpatient touch-ups to bring this back to prime condition, we now offer this truly adorable original piece of fine superbly proportioned 18th-century formal English furniture. In 40 years of antique tables, I can't remember ever offering a better example of this two drawer type. Country Homes Antiques Website has around 500 pcs antique furniture online.
