Description

A superb 17th century French walnut livery cupboard, comprising of two doors over two drawers over a pot board and decorated with flamboyant carvings. Each of the doors are decorated with a deeply carved cartouche and have later hinges. In between the doors are three terms carved with flowers (probably sunflowers) and trailing intertwined foliage. The drawers are likely later 19th century replacements but have been carved in-keeping with the surrounding decorations. The top is supported by a pair of substantial and finely turned columns that join into the potboard which has a triple paneled backdrop decorated with three central flower heads. There has been a bit of old worm attack to the back of the cupboard and the interior, however this is to be expected with walnut furniture of this age as it rarely survives. The overall condition is excellent and it has the most desirable colour and patination.
