Description

A lovely small mahogany table on elegant tapering turned legs with a single drawer and the original turned bone handle, dating from the mid to late 19th Century. It has a lower shelf but not extending the full depth of the table. This makes it a very versatile table as it leaves ample room to sit at - perfect for a small writing desk or dressing table or excellent as a hall table with room for plenty of shoes tucked underneath. It is in good original condition and is strong and sturdy. It has been well used and has developed a charming worn patina with lots of marks and scratches on the top but nothing detrimental. The drawer opens well and is clean and tidy. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions please ask.
