Description

This is an antique pole screen, an English, early Victorian fire screen with needlepoint tapestry panel dating to circa 1850. Raised on a turned mahogany stand with good colour and grain interest. A tripod of cabriole legs featuring carved 'C' scrolls, acanthus leaf knees and scrolled toes. An inverted finial beneath to finish. An expertly turned post rises to a capping finial. The adjustable screen panel easy to position. A scrolled frame mounts the needlepoint tapestry of exotic birds, branches and flowers. A fine example of its type. Solid and stable, delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home.
