Price

Sold*Item Reference: SA54852*Date of manufacture: 1750

Description

A very fine George II mahogany tea table in excellent and original condition. Level, sturdy and flat when open and closed on original brass hinges. Made by hand in c. 1750. Minor marks and dents consistent with a well cared for piece of this age and with no breaks or damage or later timbers. A few old worm holes to oak lining of drawer but long since treated and dead. Handle is period and appears original with light wear consistent with age. No other handle marks or outlines present. Drawer is original and cockbeaded to drawer and frame with lap dovetails and opens and closes smoothly – of sound construction. Toes to foot are webbed and clawed and widely spaced on flattened balls, this feature, along with the construction of drawer and design of table indicate a date of c. 1750. Colour is rich and good, finish appears old and may be original with nice patina and some light wear to surfaces but not noticeable or unpleasant. Top is constructed from matching solid mahogany panels with curved crossbanded edge and original side fixed brass hinges. Top is flat and level and opens and closes smoothly without any looseness to the hinges. Gate leg action to rear l...
