Description

A very decorative, 19th Century ceramic footbath (possibly Minton) painted with stylised flowers and foliage and beautifully moulded handles. This ogee shaped footbath is in very good condition, there is a small, hard to distinguish glaze craze to the base, this is only to the glaze and does not penetrate the ceramic. A most attractive antique footbath to add impact to any interior, whether filled with flowers or as a stand alone decorative object. c.1820 Width: 20" (51cm) Depth: 13.75" (35cm) Height: 8.75" (22cm)
