Description

Early C19th Regency period mahogany extending dining table with 3 original additional leaves. Wonderfully original pull-out telescopic action extending mahogany dining table complete with 3 original additional leaves. Raised on 4 elegant and stylish carved and fluted tapering legs ,all fitted with original brass castors . The corners of the table of subtly-rounded shape , the edges with a simple moulded profile . The format offering highly flexible size options with two large 26" leaves and one 13" width leaf . The solid mahogany timber of an excellent heavy grade and having exceptional figured grain . The table and smaller leaf all of a matching gently faded colour and patina , whilst the 2 larger leaves being darker having been stored and not used regularly to fully extend the table . The leaves all with integral brass fittings beneath , and supplied with the 'fork' clips to secure. In excellent strong and stable condition with no sagging or wear to the quality-made mahogany action , and remains completely flat and true when extended to the full length and all leaves are fitted. A rare survivor in untouched original condition having not been re-polished or re...
