Description

This SUNDERLAND LUSTRE FOOTED BOWL, dating from circa 1860, is decorated with transfer prints on both the inside and outside. On the inside is the 'Sailor's Farewell' - Sweet, oh sweet is that sensation, Where two hearts in union meet, But the pain of separation, Mingles bitter with the sweet - and The Mariner's Arms. On the outside is the poem - This is a good world to live in, To lend or to spend or to give in, But to beg or to borrow, Or get a man's own, It is such a world, As never was known. On the other side is 'The Good Wife' - Show me the wife that's on the watch, For every little rent or scratch, And cures it with a timely patch, Before you know it, She is a woman (sic) fit to match, A Lord or Poet. There is no restoration to the Bowl and just a tiny glaze flake and some discolouration to the inside. Height: 4 inches (10 cm) Diameter 8.25 inches (21 cm) Delivery within the UK is included.
