Description

An antique silver Acme Lever pocket watch by H Samuel. In 1862 when Harriet Samuel took over her father-in-law's clock-making business in Liverpool, she renamed the business H Samuel and moved the business to Manchester's Market Street where she ran the company as a mail order business. Later on, Harriet's son concentrated on the retail side of the business, and the first H Samuel retail store opened in Preston in 1890, closely followed by branches in Rochdale and throughout Lancashire. Since then the company has become nationwide with branches in many British High Streets today. This particular watch has a fully signed Swiss key-wound movement which is working nicely. The movement is protected by an inner fitted cover. The watch itself measures 51.4mm diameter excluding the stem and the loop. The case is silver and there are Swiss .935 silver marks inside both of the back covers. The case has light surface marking from use and some mild bruising to the back from use, but overall it is in nice condition for an antique watch. The watch glass has a minor marking from use although very acceptable. The signed dial is in nice condition. The watch has its original go...
