Description

A good quality Victorian Hall / Side Table or Buffet, circa 1870, the rectangular top with a moulded edge and rounded corners, with a single frieze drawer and raised on foliate carved and channel moulded supports terminating in porcelain castors. The table can also be used as a centre table, as although the frieze drawer is to one side the reverse has the same profile and mouldings. In excellent condition with no repairs or damage, the porcelain castors are original to the table.
