Description

This is an exceptional Welsh oak cwpwrdd tridarn (three-part cupboard). A bold cornice surmounts the top section, which has a panelled back and sides with asymmetrical slats and turned columns and drop-finials. The middle section has a carved central panel featuring a Renaissance arch, sunrise design and various other devices, as well as the marriage initials "TIM" (for I plus M with the surname T) and the date 1727; this is flanked by a pair of doors with square raised and fielded panels. The base section has three panelled drawers over a pair of rectangular panels, flanked by a pair of panelled doors, raised on stile feet. Wonderful deep colour and surface patination. Conwy Valley, Snowdonia, north Wales, dated 1727. Height: 190,5 cms Width across middle: 139 cms; across cornice: 150 cms Depth across middle: 56 cms; across cornice: 61 cms.
