Description

A very stylish and very usable Victorian biscuit barrel or cookie jar, perfect for all sorts of goodies, I remember as a child my grandmother always have sweets or candies in a similar one. This one has a folding handle in an unusual shape and stands up if desired. The drum shaped holder is pierced all the way around to give a glimpse of the contents. It is unbelievable that it still retains the wonderful and very fine glass liner which sits snugly inside and is removable for cleaning. The rim of the outer case has a very decorative scalloped rim finished with a ribbon and reed edging. This example dates to around 1880, and is marked on the underside H H & S for Henry Hobson and Sons - which was established in Sheffield by Henry Hobson in 1845. A London branch was also opened in 1852 and later renamed as George Hobson & Sons. The underside is also marked EPNS for Electro-Plated Nickel Silver. An wonderful piece in superb condition and measuring 5 1/2" tall excluding handle with a rim diameter of 6". Item ID: 31434 ----- FREE Worldwide Registered Airmail; Insurance Optional.
