Description

Early Georgian oak enclosed dresser base in country house condition. Great colour and patination from years of waxing but a bit rough round the edges. Three drawers along the top with three drawers down the middle with cupboards to either side. The brass swan neck handles are later Edwardian ones as are the brass turn buckles for the doors. A couple of the drawers also have later linings and some of the internal runners are very worn. The dresser base stands on its original feet including the double design one in the middle. Looks great as it is and is perfectly functional but could be improved if required with some new runners and a little tidying up here and there. SIZE; 71" wide by 18 1/2" deep by 34" high CIRCA; 1730 - 1750
