Description

Circa 1900-1920 a brass and bronze hydrometer pot with the original handle, and these were mainly used to measure the saline from ship's engines. It measures 30cm in height; 12.5cm across the base and 6.5cm across the top. The beautiful handle is 15.5cm in length and pure Art Nouveau in design. The pot is in very good condition although on very close examination there are two tiny nicks on the base which can just about be seen in the main photo. Postage and packing within the UK mainland only is included in the price and for outside areas or abroad, please contact us for a delivery quote.
