Description

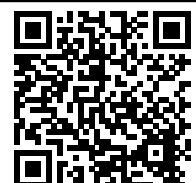

Pretty pair of George IV silver table salts with gilt interiors. Attractive trough shape with fluted collet foot and gadrooned rim. Hallmarked for London 1825, maker Richard Pearce. The measure 10cm (3 15/16") long, 8cm (3 1/8") wide and 4cm (1 5/8") high and weigh 204g / 6.6ozt. Condition is very good with no dents or repairs. There is a little wear to the gilding on one but they have been previously matched with a well fitting pair of period blue glass liners to enable them to still be used without concern over contact between the silver and the salt. The hallmarks are slightly rubbed but fully legible and surface wear is very light otherwise.
