Description

This unusual SILVER TOAST RACK has four compartments divided by a decorative arch style frame supporting a central handle. The rack, made by Josiah Williams & Co in 1934, has a rectangular shaped body / base that has rounded corners and is supported by four decorative feet. The toast rack has five delightfully shaped ribbon type dividers resulting in four toast sections and the central divider has a shaped handle on the top. This lovely toast rack has not been engraved with any family crests or initials and one end has a full set of clearly defined hallmarks. This is made from exceptionally good gauge silver, fine quality and is in excellent condition and could be used as intended as a toast rack or as a superb desk top letter rack or would make a wonderful addition to any collection and would enhance any table setting.
