Description

Regency mahogany work table This Regency mahogany work table was made circa 1810. This table is made of a fantastic mahogany of a rare cut or species. The grain and figuring to the top are a fantastic eye-catching feature, and then it has the added interest of fine tulip wood banding. The Regency mahogany work table has 2 working drawers to the front and dummy drawer fronts to the rear. This was to make the table look uniform, so it could be stood in the middle of the room if required. The drawers retain the original beautifully turned solid mahogany knob handles. It was in this period that turned knob handles were first in the height of fashion. The table stands on a turned solid mahogany central column with 4 splay legs coming off the stem. The moulded splay legs finishing with brass claw toes and rolling castors under. 54cms deep (21ins) 41cms wide closed (16ins) 72cms high (28 1/4ins) 69cms wide with flaps up (31ins) All dimensions are approximate We can arrange delivery nationwide or to be shipped overseas This item carries the Hingstons Antiques product guarantee plate.
