For your consideration are these matching pair of 1930's Art Deco chrome and Bakelite wall lights. Both lights have milk white glass shades with an up-lighter effect. The orange catalin bakelite is bright and in crisp condition as is the chrome, free from damage and any real wear, no pitting, tarnishing, scratches. The shades although authentic to the period have been added to the lights and rest inside the chrome galleries. Fully re-wired and pat tested and ready to install. These lights look just as impressive switched on or off.
