Description

A truly remarkable Colonial Campaign Set Of Bookshelves, that are not only extremely rare, but immensely useful as well. With slotted screw joints to the end mouldings that enable the mouldings to be slid out of the way, revealing dovetail housings for the shaped uprights to be slid out. Then, by removing a couple of screws from the rear of each shelf, the whole thing can be flat packed ready to take on your next expedition! In very good order throughout, the bookshelves would grace any room and make a very interesting focal point. Made of good quality hardwood, with each set of shaped uprights having a unique design to them for added design interest, and useful so that the parts are easily identifiable when assembling. This is probably some of the most stylish flat packed furniture you are likely to see. Circa Victorian Dimensions Width 42in/107cm Depth 14in/36cm Height 60in/153cm
