Description

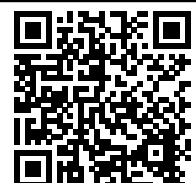

A fine quality and rare TEA CADDY in the form of a melon. From the family of "fruit" caddies, produced in Southern Germany during the late 18th/early 19th century period, this is one of the rarer shapes which include apples; pears; gourds and melons ~ this "segmented" melon being particularly unusual. Complete with original lead lining; steel hinge; lock and escutcheon, this also retains its original key. 5.75ins (14.5cms) high.
