Description

A lovely antique Piano Stool dating from the early 19th century. It is made from mahogany with an upholstered seat and stands on four reeded turned legs. The height of the seat can be adjusted by spinning the seat around to move it up or down. The stool is nicely upholstered and displays well however it would also make a nice re-upholstery project. Height (at its lowest adjustable position) : 19" (48cm) Height (at its highest adjustable position) : 24" (60cm) Diameter of seat : 12" (30cm) It is in good condition for its age. The upholstery is clean and free from any rips or major wear. The revolving mechanism runs smoothly with very minimal give side to side and when extended upwards the stool is very stable. The wood has developed a nice aged patina. It is free from any major knocks or splits and is overall a sturdy construction. There are some small marks and minor knocks around the base but nothing detrimental and it displays beautifully and is certainly a very usable piece. The best description comes from the pictures so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions at all please ask. Nationwide delivery £30.
