Description

Very nice quality and rare French walnut and marquetry inlaid dressing table with lift top, circa 1900. Great style to this piece and very functional, perfect if you're wanting to place a dressing table in front of a window, so you just lift the top to open the mirror when using it. Lovely quality and condition, very elegant with the tapering legs finished with brass caps. When the top is opened, you have the mirror to the centre, the left has a double depth storage area and the right has a half depth area. There are two further drawers and a pull out slide for additional surface. It can free stand if needed as the rear is finished and polished too.
