Description

A gilded timepiece carriage clock retailed by Penlington & Batty around 1890. Curved and bevelled side glasses, with an unusual off white enamel dial showing fancy Arabic numerals. Wound once a week with a key. This clock does have a small chip to the right side glass which can be seen in the pictures and a minor chip to the top glass, however these are only noticeable upon close inspection and we feel it would be a shame to replace them. The clock has benefited from a complete overhaul and is sold with a full 12 month guarantee.
