Description

Super quality and good condition French marquetry games table, circa 1920. Very decorative piece and works very well as a side table, hall table, console table as well as intended as a games table! The top has a swivel point and hinges open to the green baize and storage area within as you can see. (There is a small hole in the green baize, I have left this as is, but if you would like the baize replacing I can have this done for you if required). Good rich colour and the marquetry is all in good condition. The brass banding around the top and the mounts could be polished up further if you would like.
