Description

A charming country oak side table with a single drawer, dating from the 18th century. It has a planked overhanging top and stands on attractive turned legs. It is in good condition with a lovely rich patina. It is strong and sturdy and the drawer opens well. There are many signs of age and use but it is a good honest little table. There have been some repairs, restorations and alterations over its life. A piece of moulding on the side has been replaced at some time, as have the bottoms of some of the feet. It is possible the feet would have originally been slightly longer or stood on a ball but it doesn't detract from the table. The table has been cleaned and given a light wax and is ready for use.
