Description

A superb Victorian mahogany Linen Press dating from the mid to late 19th Century of smaller than average proportions. It has two nicely panelled cupboard doors that open to a shelved interior with the original linen slides. This sits atop two short and two long drawers with the original turned knobs on square plinth. It is in excellent original condition. The interior is clean and tidy and the drawers run smoothly. The cupboard doors and drawers come with their original working keys. All the knobs are original and the mahogany has a wonderful rich patination. There are no major damages to the exterior, a few small chips and small splits in places but nothing detrimental. There is some slight natural sun bleaching to one side but it still displays beautifully. It splits into two part for transport and the top cornice also come off. The best description comes from the pictures so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions please ask.
