Description

The Roaring Twenties were a time of incredible design as well as craftsmanship bringing us magnificent chased cases typically in white Gold or Gold Fill. Here's just such a beauty and for your consideration is this Art Deco 1930's Elgin white gold filled Gents wrist watch which has the most incredible dial and look to it and is 100% original. A super Art Deco Elgin case with no wear or tipping, housing an accurate running, fully serviced, 15 red ruby Jewel Elgin time machine, winding smoothly and setting properly. This stylish time piece watch is powering the original radium hands. The bold radium numerals really are the showcase of this watch. There's sepia tone to the dial which gives that feeling of age and times past. A lovely watch any gentleman would love to wear. The case back is free of any engravings, shows no wear-through to the plating. We've had a new leather strap fitted. All of our watches are sent first class FREE UK delivery in a complimentary gift box. BIO The Elgin National Watch Company, commonly known as Elgin Watch Company, was a major US watch maker from 1864 to 1968. The company sold watches under the names Elgin, Lord Elgin, and Lady Elgin.
