Description

This Victorian inlaid walnut Sutherland table was made circa 1870. Sutherland tables are very versatile tables. They fold down to a very narrow table, so that it can tuck in to a wall or behind a sofa. They can be used with one flap up or fully open making it a very comfortable 4 seat table. The table stands on carved end supports with elegant cabriole legs and castors. A turned walnut leg using castors swings out to support each leaf. The top with its wonderful burr walnut veneer inlaid with boxwood stringing and an inlaid pattern to the centre. We have fully restored this table and it looks as good if not better than it would have done when it was first made as now it has the gentle fading of time.
