Description

Georgian inlaid mahogany linen press This Georgian inlaid mahogany linen press was made in the first quarter of the 19th century. It was made in a good workshop using Sheratons influence with the satinwood banding and the large decorative motif in the central panels of the doors. The flared cornice with a fine dog tooth moulding under. The pair of inlaid panel doors open to reveal a series of slides. Often clients like to take these out and we install a hanging bar across to make them into wardrobes. Below the press top there is a chest with 2 half drawers at the top and a further 2 graduated drawers below. Each drawer with a good satinwood cross banding It stands on shaped splay feet that are joined by a shaped apron, all have line boxwood stringing. 198cms high (78ins) 127cms wide (50ins) 132cms widest across cornice (52ins) 58cms deep (23ins) All dimensions are approximate We can arrange delivery nationwide or we can obtain a quote for it to be shipped overseas This item carries the Hingstons Antiques product guarantee plate. This gives you the peace of mind that any item with this on, is of the quality and condition expected when purchasing from us. PRICE MATCHING A...
