Description

A superb large wall mirror dating from the early 19th Century. It has a gilded frame with egg and dart decoration and its original mercury glass mirror plate. It is a good size to be used as an overmantle and could be used landscape or portrait. It is in good original condition with lots of wear and foxing on the mirror plate. There are some very minor damages and small losses around the edges of the mirror but nothing detrimental and overall it displays very nicely. It has been lightly cleaned and is ready to hang.
