Description

A rare English twin fusee 18th century dial wall clock. A 12 3/4" silvered dial with blued steel hands and rare feature of rise and fall pendulum adjuster and scale below X11. A mahogany case with a convex and concave moulded wooden bezel surround. A double fusee mechanism striking the hours on a bell. A lovely old Victorian repairers label on the side door from London. This clock dates to circa 1775. Silvered dial wall clocks were the first examples made and this is a fine example. Edward Tulet of Fenchurch Street, London was a master of the Clockmakers Company in 1786. He is recorded in Britten's 'Old Clocks and Watches & Their Makers' book as working from 1760-1794. Overall width 17" / 44 cms Depth 6 1/2" / 17 cms From Kembery Antique Clocks Ltd. you can expect a genuine antique wall clock that is in full working order and sold with 12 months guarantee.
