Description

A beautiful Scottish mahogany chest of drawers dating from the mid to late 19th Century. Excellent quality and a larger than normal size with six long drawers, flanked either side by turned columns. The drawers are graduated in size from top to bottom and all have their original turned knobs. It is a clean and sturdy set of drawers with a nice rich patina and lovely grain on the drawer fronts. It is in good condition for its age. The drawers are clean and tidy and all open well. There are the usual small signs of wear and age, a few marks and stains on the top but nothing detrimental or untoward. The sides are made of two planks and on the one side the planks have shrunk and a small split has opened up between them (see photo) but they still display very well and this doesn't detract from their overall appearance. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions please ask. Free local delivery within 10 miles of Ashburton. We organise regular weekly deliveries to London and Nationwide delivery is available, please get in touch for an accurate quote.
