Description

An exceptionally high quality bow fronted oak corner cupboard, the doors beautifully inlaid with mahogany in the gothic style. The interior of this very unusual antique hanging corner cupboard has three oak shelves and three small brass handled drawers. The back, sides, top and base are all solid oak and the cupboard has the warm, rich colour and patina which is only acquired over many years. The condition is excellent. This stunning 18th Century corner cupboard originates from the north west area of England and has an excellent provenance, being in a private family collection for decades. A wonderful example of Georgian furniture that would be an important decorative addition to any interior. c.1760 Height: 46" (117cm) Depth: 22.5"(57cm)
