Description

Circa early 20th Century, this heavy and well made chandelier has some lovely details around the central column and the five arms holding the lights. It measures approximately 60cm from the hook at the top of the ceiling fitting to the bottom of the long drop and about 40cm maximum across the widest part. The drops are all original and complete, and the chandelier was rewired by the previous owner but we will have it PAT tested. As we no longer sell through a retail outlet if the buyer can arrange collection from us in SW London, we will offer a discount on the price and pack it safely. Alternatively, if it is to go within easy reach of the M25/Surrey area, we can deliver it ourselves. For other areas, please contact us to discuss delivery thank you.
