Description

Very large antique pine double wardrobe dating from the turn of the century. It is in excellent condition throughout, having recently been stripped to the bare wood. There are two very large doors with a diamond shape on both panels, they are also mounted on external hinges that allows them to open fully. The original lock and key's, both in the door and two bottom drawers, are in good working order. The wardrobe is sat on very attractive large bun feet to the front. As with most of our larger wardrobes, this one dismantles for delivery and access. The internal depth is 21", so will accommodate large coat and suit hangers. At present the wardrobe still has the original hanging pegs but we can fit a new brass hanging rail, if you would prefer. Please let us know of your requirements. Height 74", width 73", depth 24.5", internal depth 21"
