Description

FINE 18th century George III Chippendale design mahogany tea table of serpentine form. Both the front and the sides are serpentine in shape. The table has very nice moulded square legs and is finished all round. The base of the frieze has an astragal moulding all round including the back. Rarely the table has all of its original fretted corner brackets which as well as being fretted are also curved to match the shape of the table. The top of the table has a typical 18th century mould around the edge. The fifth legs swings round to hold the top when open. The table is a gorgeous colour with original rich patination and waxed finish. A real nice example. SIZE; 36" wide by 18" deep by 28 1/2" high CIRCA; 1770 - 1780
